INTRODUCTION

My fair Lady has a few specific sound effects and also an opportunity for some background effects. We have included a Sound FX of some Street Atmosphere that you may like to use in the opening scene, and some Honky-Tonk Piano for the Pub Scenes, which you also may wish to use if you have a piano on stage with pianist facing upstage.

The Horse Race Sound FX that we have included pans from Stage Left to Stage Right.

We have also included two 'Phonograph Going Mad' FX's should you have 2 phonographs on stage for your production. If you have 3 phonographs, then replaying the first cue on top of the previous other two FX would be most effective.

There is a further Phonograph cue at the end of Act 2 (Page 127) which involves the voices of Eliza & Higgins. To do this properly you will need to record these yourself using the voices of your actors.

Track listing notes

We do not claim that this CD is the definitive sound for every production, but invite you to use it as a starting point for your own Sound Design.
